SUPPLY COOPERATIVE

10-1-2026

Dear Patrons,

October in Southern Wisconsin is a truly beautiful time of year. While the next couple of months will bring a lot of hard work, we want to pause and wish our local farmers a safe and successful harvest season. Amidst the busy days ahead, we hope you all find time to slow down and enjoy the sights of fall—whether you are cheering on your favorite student athletes or admiring the vibrant autumn leaves along our country roads.

As the weather cools and harvest begins, our team is busy preparing for the heating season. We are continuously filling scheduled propane tanks and keeping our New Horizons Propane Bulk Plants fully stocked to handle winter weather and your upcoming corn drying needs. If you have a corn drying contract and have room in your tank for a delivery, please let us know so we can ensure your LP is topped off and ready when you are.

We want to extend a huge thank you to our dedicated fuel and propane delivery teams, who are working tirelessly to keep up with high autumn demands. We deeply appreciate the trust you place in New Horizons to deliver your fuel products safely, efficiently, and promptly. Our entire team takes great pride in taking excellent care of our customers.

Finally, we look forward to sharing our Cooperative's final 2025–26 earnings report with you in the coming weeks. New Horizons is proud of the services we provide to our members. We are a strong cooperative, and that strength is only possible because of your continued loyal support.

Wishing you a safe, warm, and wonderful fall season!

As always, thank you for your patronage.

Sincerely,

Jason Cullen

Harvest Time! As our farmer friends begin harvest, let's give those slower moving vehicles a little extra space. Here's to a safe and successful harvest season for all! Thank you farmers!
